
Native Speeches on European Colonization

Unit 5, Lesson 16

Source 1

Source 2

Source 3

Hold up the card that shows the source that supports the conclusion.

Native Americans controlled
more land than the English.

Hold up the card that shows the source that supports the conclusion.

Native Americans controlled less than half of the land in the United States.

Hold up the card that shows the source that supports the conclusion.

Native Americans lost most of the land that they onced owned in the East.

Hold up the card that shows the source that supports the conclusion.

Source 1: Powhatan

Source 2: Miantonomo

Source 3: King Philip Metacom

Native Americans met the English without weapons.

Hold up the card that shows the source that supports the conclusion.

Source 1: Powhatan

Source 2: Miantonomo

Source 3: King Philip Metacom

Native Americans were punished for breaking laws that were not their own.

Hold up the card that shows the source that supports the conclusion.

Source 1: Powhatan

Source 2: Miantonomo

Source 3: King Philip Metacom

Native Americans plotted to attack the English.

Another Point of View About the English

Source 4

The natives really are better to us than we are to them. They always give us food and make sure that we are not hungry or thirsty.

We do not do the same for them. We look down on them as if they are not as good as us, like they are beasts. We think of them as if they are slaves.

But if we admit the truth - we are the ones who are not good. We left our homes in England and took their lands. We trade with them but gave them alcohol and cheat them in everything we sell.

We threaten them with our guns, steal their farming ideas, steal, and damage their sources of food, and take their land.

We are unjust to these savages...

John Lawson - North Carolina - 1709

-
- How might people instill confidence in conclusions?
 - What was a shared Native American point of view about the colonization of America by the English?
 - Based on the sources that you analyzed in this lesson, was that point of view justified? Explain why or why not.