

Contact Information

As required by Title 14 §4143 (f) (1), each school district and charter school shall designate an individual responsible for overseeing the implementation of the educational programming required by HB 198 and provide the name and contact information for that individual to the Department of Education no later than September 15 of each year.

HB 198 Lead: Danielle Harris

Position: African American Studies Teacher

Email: dharris@kacsde.org

K-12 Instructional Approach

As required by Title 14 §4143 (a) (4), (a) (5), and (b) (1-8), the curricula required must be designed to do all of the following:

- a. rely heavily on primary sourcing to receive a true perspective of the Black experience inclusive of the triumphs, setbacks, and contributions of Black persons.
- b. ensure the material is presented in an age appropriate manner.
- c. Be trauma-responsive and recognize the impact of racial and historical trauma on students.
- d. Stimulate students' reflection on the roles and responsibilities of citizens in democratic societies to combat racism, inequality, and discrimination through tools of resistance such as protest, reform, and celebration.
- e. Incorporate contemporary events into discussions of Black History and the tools of resistance.
- f. Develop students' respect for cultural and racial diversity.
- g. Enable students to understand the ramifications of prejudice, racism, and stereotyping.
- h. Provide opportunities for students to discuss and uplift the Black experience.
- i. Provide students with a foundation for examining the history of discrimination in this State.
- j. Explore the various mechanisms of transitional and restorative justice that help humanity move forward.

Explain how your district or charter school curricula meet the requirements above. Be specific.

1. All scholars from Kindergarten through 8th grade will receive African American Studies biweekly throughout the entire year.
2. African American Studies will be a 60 minute instructional period, homeroom teachers will use this time as an additional prep period.

K-12 Black History Content Implementations

As required by Title 14 §4143 (a) (1), each district and charter school serving 1 or more of the grades K through 12 shall provide instruction on Black history. According to Title 14 §4143 (a) (3), the Black history curricula developed or identified by the school district or charter must, at a minimum, include all of the following:

- a. The history and culture of Black people prior to the African and Black Diaspora, including contributions to science, art, and literature.

- b. The significance of enslavement in the development of the American economy.
- c. The relationship between white supremacy, racism, and American slavery.
- d. The central role racism played in the Civil War.
- e. How the tragedy of enslavement was perpetuated through segregation and federal, state, and local laws.
- f. The contributions of Black people to American life, history, literature, economy, politics, and culture.
- g. The socio-economic struggle Black people endured, and continue to endure, in working to achieve fair treatment in the United States; as well as the agency they employ in this work for equal treatment.
- h. Black figures in national history and in Delaware history.

Implementation Summary Table

The table below is designed to detail the grade-levels at which each of the minimum content requirements under subsection (a)(3) were implemented. Place an X in each grade level box to indicate the grade-level(s) at which that minimum content requirement was implemented.

7th - 8th	The Brotherhood Crew Social Awareness	Kings of Harlem, a play by Layon Gray, is a work of historical fiction depicting the struggles and achievements of members of the New York Rens, an all-Black men’s professional basketball team that dominated the game during the 1920s and 1930s. Though the characters are fictionalized compilations of various real men who played for the team, the show portrays them as they experience what was the real discrimination inherent in the Jim Crow era, and illuminates the challenges they faced as they sought respect and equality when given the unprecedented invitation to compete against an all-white championship basketball team. There are a few instances of scatological humor and sexual innuendo, profanity, as well as discussion and verbal imagery of the lynching of a character’s family members and another tragic death. Students hear the music of Cab Calloway throughout the play.
